

CHAMBER FORUMS TO CLOSE THURSDAY

The weekly forum meetings of the Chamber of Commerce will be brought to a close next Thursday for the summer. It was announced by officials Saturday that these meetings have met with much success since their beginning, but it is thought that too many members will be absent from the city during the summer, thus making it best to discontinue them until next fall.

A feature of the meeting Thursday will be an address by Ex-Governor M. R. Patterson of Tennessee, who will speak on "Education." The "Boys' Marines" will be guests on that day and will give their entertainment of jazz music, rope throwing and other stunts.

John A. Oelrich, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that 100 per cent attendance is expected at the final meeting and that even greater success is hoped to be attained by the forum when it is reopened next fall. Since the forum has been in session many distinguished persons have been their guests. Among them were John Temple Graves, editor and writer; Rose Crane, artist and lecturer; Judge Crawford Green, associate justice of the Tennessee supreme court; John Philip Sousa, world renowned musician; Miss Alice Maerlein, Belgian poet and dramatist; Miss Jessie B. Rittenhouse, New York editor and poet; Ellis Parker Butler, writer, lecturer and humorist; and Hon. Frederick D. Gardner, governor of Missouri.
